The aim of our study is to take a fresh look at the seasonal dating of Sappho's Midnight Poem. The key information used in this regard is the line indicating that by midnight the Pleiades had already set, even though we do not know the year in which this observation was made. But since Sappho is reported to have died around 570 BC, we have adopted this as the reference year for our analysis.⁷ Furthermore, we assume that the observation was made from Mytilene, the capital and primary city of Lesbos at this time, which is where Sappho is presumed to have resided for much of her life. Mytilene, with coordinates of 39° 6' N and 26° 33' E, is located on the eastern side of the island of Lesbos, facing towards the ancient region of Lydia, which is now part of western Turkey.
